CLAWSON, MI - Award-winning Japhet School in Clawson is inviting families to attend its annual STEAM Extravaganza on Sunday, March 18, from 1 to 4 pm at the school, at 839 S. Crooks Road. This free event is open to the community.

STEAM will feature many fun and educational activities designed to engage students in science and other subjects, including:

- Absorb Yourself in Absorption -- Using polymer crystals, witness how the three primary colors gradually blend to create a rainbow that you can take home
- Bubbl'art -- Create your own work of art using an unusual medium - bubbles
- Marble Maze -- Construct your own maze for a marble to navigate
... and more

Japhet School will welcome special guest and musician Guy Louis, who will demonstrate and play instruments from around the world. His visit is funded in part by the Michigan Humanities Cuoncil and the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Adults may accompany children in classrooms to participate in the activities, or they may attend the delicious Dessert Auction organized by the school's parents that is occurring at the same time. Parents and guests can sample desserts and buy one if they choose.

Japhet's STEAM Extravaganza is also an Open House for anyone interested in learning more about the school. Japhet is now enrolling students in preschool through 8th grade for fall. Interested parents begin the process by touring the school, scheduling a visit day for their child, and applying for enrollment. Japhet offers both merit-based scholarships and need-based financial aid for families.

About Japhet School:

Founded in 1973, Japhet School is an independent school, serving children the metropolitan Detroit area in preschool through eighth grade. Its mission is to nurture and prepare each child for life by integrating character education with a strong academic program. The school provides small classes of fewer than 20 students in each, which enables teachers to challenge students with academic material that is appropriate for their intellectual readiness, regardless of age or grade. Integrated with strong academics is Japhet School's national award-winning character education curriculum, which builds a peaceful community within the school. The school's public speaking curriculum gives graduates confidence in leadership roles. Japhet is a National School of Character: it was the first school in Michigan -- and the first independent school in the country -- to receive this award.
