

Character First glassybaby order form for Japhet

Let's celebrate 50 years!

Japhet School and glassybaby partnership

Japhet School is pleased to partner with glassybaby, a company where giving is the cornerstone of their business plan. To date glassybaby has donated over $13 million to organizations worldwide that provide hope and healing for people, animals, and the planet. We are grateful we can shine a light on our 50th anniversary with a hand blown glass votive that raises funds for our mission. This glass votive is made in the USA and is a vibrant Japhet royal blue (the glassybaby color brave).

A portion from each purchase is earmarked to Forgotten Harvest, one of our longtime nonprofit partners where our students have volunteered! Find more information on the glassybaby foundation here.

Our mission: Japhet School's mission is to nurture and prepare each child for life by integrating character education with a strong academic program. Japhet School does more than prepare our students for higher education; we prepare them for life. Japhet School encourages every student to grow, question, learn and excel to his or her full potential. Good character is emphasized in every class, every day. Your order helps us further our mission and to continue to grow the leaders of tomorrow. Order here: <https://forms.gle/nyJAmaGqaCKVjMQn6>

How can you participate? Character First is $110 each if shipped to Japhet School and picked up in person. Add $13.25 for shipping for a direct shipment. Donation receipts are available. All sales are final. We appreciate your support! Order here.

Production time is roughly five weeks. Once the production run is complete the Character First commemorative votive will be shipped directly from glassybaby to Japhet School, unless you choose to have it shipped to you directly. We hope to have them prior to school closing for the holidays.
